

EXPECT RECORD CROWD IN DIXON TUESDAY NIGHT

FORMER DIXON YOUTH KILLED BY I. C. TRAIN

Willard Beach Met Tragic End in Bloomington R. R. Yards.

Willard Beach, well known in this city where he made his home for several years and prominent in musical circles here, died at a hospital in Bloomington last night about 10 o'clock from injuries sustained in being run down by a switch engine in the Bloomington Illinois Central yards. A special train was made up at Amboy to rush his wife and six-year-old daughter and Miss Ruby and James Schrock of this city to his bedside, but the special did not arrive at Bloomington until after death had ended his sufferings.

From what could be learned of the case this morning from relatives, Mr. Beach, who was a brakeman in the employ of the Illinois Central, was walking in the yards about 5 o'clock last evening, his train standing on a track ready to make the return trip to Amboy, his run being between Amboy and Bloomington. It was while he was walking along the tracks that a switch engine backed down upon him without warning and he was knocked down, both legs being severed from the body as the locomotive passed over him.

Well known Here. He was rushed to a hospital where he was given every attention but died about 10 o'clock without recovering from the shock and before the special train bearing his wife and daughter and other members of the family could reach the city.

The young man was very popular among both his fellow employees and all who knew him. During his residence in Dixon, he made numerous acquaintances and all were sorrow stricken with the news of his sudden death. Besides his wife and daughter, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Beach of Rockford and two brothers, also of that city.

During his residence in this city, Mr. Beach was a soloist with the Dixon band. About two years ago he entered the employ of the Illinois Central railroad as a freight brakeman, running south of Amboy. An inquest will be held at Bloomington today.

RAIL STRIKE IN BRITAIN NOT TO BE CALLED NOW

Railworkers Postponed Call Pending New Negotiations.

By Associated Press Leased Wire. London, Oct. 23.—The railwaymen have postponed their proposed strike in sympathy with the miners temporarily at the request of the miners' executive, it was announced this evening. The miners have accepted an invitation from Premier Lloyd George for further discussions.

Informal conversations between the government and individual leaders of the striking British coal miners were resumed this morning. These discussions followed a conference with Premier Lloyd George and several other members of the government in which the secretary of the miners' organization was one of the participants.

Representatives of the mine owners also conferred with the government. The view expressed in government circles this afternoon was that the strike situation was by no means without hope of a favorable solution.

During the discussion between the government and the miners informal proposals were expected to be made which might contain a nucleus for an ultimate settlement.

J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen announced to the press that he was striving for the immediate convocation of a conference between the opposing forces.

One of the horses, Mickey, owned by George Hay of Sterling, is thought to have suffered a broken hip and if such is the case, will have to be shot.

FORCED FOOD LIKELY TO PROLONG LIFE OF LORD MAYOR OF CORK

Grave Reports Circulated in London During Day, However.

By Associated Press Leased Wire. London, Oct. 23.—Grave reports were in circulation at noon today regarding the condition of Terrace MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, on the seventy-second day of his hunger strike in Brixton prison. A statement issued by the Exchange Telegraph company at that hour declared the Lord Mayor's last moments were at hand.

The bulletin of the Irish Self-Determination League on the Lord Mayors condition, however, stated the League has been informed that he was in about the same state as recently. He was unconscious, its information said.

"However," added the statement, "the home office has placed an embargo on the use of the telephone for communicating new to the outside and has forbidden the Lord Mayor's sister to visit him."

The home office explained the denial of admission to the Lord Mayor's sister as being due only to the belief that their visits interfered with the careful nursing which the prisoners' extremely delicate condition required.

The League announced that Mrs. MacSwiney, while permitted to see her husband, was permitted to remain only short periods. A new angle of the case developed today in that the Lord Mayor is now retaining the food administered by the doctors, indicating that it is being assimilated. This, it is believed, may prolong MacSwiney's life for some time.

MARINE BAND CONCERT WILL BRING THROGS

Popular Prices So Everyone Can Hear U. S. Organization.

SEAT SALE STARTS. Tickets for the United States Marine band concert to be held Tuesday evening at the Assembly auditorium, will be placed on sale at the Rowland drug store this evening. The sale will continue until the evening of the program.

With popular prices—75 cents for adults and 25 cents for children—in effect, and free parking privileges for automobiles, it is expected that the United States Marine Band, "The President Own," will draw as many people to Dixon next Tuesday as it did six years ago on its record-breaking visit. At that time the Auditorium at the Assembly grounds was packed and the park and streets surrounding were jammed with the automobiles of those who came for miles to hear the famous musical organization.

The Dixon Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices the band will appear here Tuesday evening, is not seeking to make any large amount of money on the affair; primarily bringing the band to the city as an advertising feature. To that end the prices of admission for the concert, which will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, have been made small and no charge will be made for cars. The park will be adequately lighted and competent men will be on hand to help drivers park their machines. There will also be a large force of ushers on hand to seat patrons.

Will Play "Sextet." While not mentioned on his program it is pretty well understood that Leader William H. Santelmann will, in response to many requests, have the Lucia Sextette available as an encore response. It has already been asked for by numerous music lovers in this city. It is an audacious piece of spectacular music, surpassing in brilliancy of effect even the brass band march introduced in the Soldier Chorus in "Faust." The Soldier Chorus, but made definitely provided for as a number for the horns by the composer, Gounod. But it may be doubted whether the melodious Donizetti ever thought that the tragic episode in the history of the bride of Lammormoor would be thus reflected in ringing gorgeousness. Probably the first arrangement of this sextette for horns was made by the popular bandmaster, Pat Gilmore, whose love of spectacular audacity subjected him to much criticism in conservative musical circles, but made him nevertheless the idol of the holiday throng. A Gilmore's Band audience expected something thrilling and his leader hesitated at no device which ingenuity could summon to gratify this demand; even going as far as to use artillery in the distance to represent the strokes of the hammer in the Anvil Chorus from "Trovatore." Leader Santelmann is willing to reproduce "Lucia" in brass, recognizing the marvelous effectiveness of the interpretation. He has not yet been requested, however, for an allowance of ammunition that will permit him to reproduce the Anvil Chorus a la Gilmore.

Today's Market Report

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Grain Markets Are Steadier This Morn

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 23.—A big export business of the past few days and the strength in foreign markets today caused a steady market for wheat. December, however, started strong, showing a gain of 3/4c to 2 1/2c over last night's close. This advance was met with larger offerings especially by a large elevator interest which resulted in an immediate setback which carried prices below yesterday's finish. After showing 1/2c loss to a gain of 2 1/2c at the start, with Dec. 2 3/4c@2.04 1/2 and March 1.95 1/2 to 1.96 1/2, a break carried prices down rapidly, a reaction then took hold and checked the drop.

Corn started about steady in sympathy with wheat, initial quotations being 1/2c lower to 1/4c higher with Dec. 8 1/2c to 8 3/4c and May 8 1/2c to 8 3/4c. The market dropped slightly after this but after the first hour the decline was checked.

Oats were governed by the action of other grains, starting 1/2c lower to 3/4c higher, with Dec. 5 1/2c to 5 3/4c and March 5 1/2c to 5 3/4c. The market dropped slightly after this but after the first hour the decline was checked.

Weekly Grain Review.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 23.—Severe setbacks in the price of grain have taken place this week largely as a result of the British coal strike. Compared with a week ago wheat is 1/2c to 3/4c lower, corn 1/4c to 1/2c lower, and oats 1/4c to 1/2c lower. The market dropped slightly after this but after the first hour the decline was checked.

Bears in wheat were quick to take advantage of fear that the British strike would bring about heavy delay and curtailment of export business. Houses with seaboard connections bought on the resulting decline but rallied due to this fact proved brief except when the coal strike outlook became less threatening. Failure of agricultural interests to get encouragement from the federal reserve board as to obtaining credit to hold farm products counted also against the bulls, and so likewise did Secretary Houston's address before the bankers' convention at Washington.

On the other hand considerable notice was given to predictions from officers of the wheat growers' association of the United States that acreage would attend a proposed cutting off of rural sales of wheat on and after Oct. 25.

Corn and oats gave way with wheat, despite liberal export buying of corn. Both foodstuffs touched the lowest price in several years.

Provisions, especially pork reflected the weakness of grain and hogs.

When a Woman is Nervous—Worried

The lives of most women are full of worry. Men's troubles are bad enough, but women's are worse. Worry makes women sick. It pulls them down, and in their weakened condition they are subject to pains, aches, weakness, backaches, headaches and dizzy spells. Most women neglect their health, and for this they pay the penalty. Any woman will find that neglect does not pay. A little more attention to health would brighten up her life. If she asks her neighbors the finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system. It not only acts upon the troubles and weaknesses peculiar to women, but is an all-around tonic that braces the entire body, overcoming nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness and a run-down condition.

MOUNT VERNON, ILL.—"I am glad to say that Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription proved just as good as it is advertised to be. I was weak and lacked strength and ambition. I had worked hard and was poorly. I used the 'Favorite Prescription' and it gave me new strength, and seemed to put new life in me. I was pleased that it did so much for me and I am very glad to recommend it."—Mrs. WILL NEWBY, No. 1213 West Broadway.

WHY POLITICS AFFECTS YOUR HOME

BY

MAUD WOOD PARK

(Chairman National League of Women Voters.)

MADAM, WHO RUNS YOUR HOUSE?

Now that women have the ballot they have the means of really protecting their homes.

City government has a vital effect on the home. City government is, for its citizens, government in its most concrete form. The state delegates much of its power to large cities. Cities are complete political entities, acting by right of city charters granted by the state.

The government of the city is that part of all government lying immediately around the home. City regulation pronounces your child born, and city ordinance declares him dead.

City government has to do with the quality of the water your family drinks, the food it eats, the education your children obtain, the streets through which they pass, the transportation they use, the fire protection you have when your home burns, the hospital your child is taken to if he is run over, and the cemetery in which he is buried when he dies.

The mayor or commissioners as executive, the alderman or city council as legislative, the board of estimate and apportionment as financial agents of city government are the invisible predestinators of your home.

Through these your housing is rendered adequate by building restrictions. Through these contagious disease is kept away from your children. Through these a pound of sugar is compelled to be a pound of sugar. Through these infections and impurities are kept out of the meat served at your table.

The butcher, the grocer, the doctor, the minister, the lawyer, the undertaker, the thief, the policeman—all bring the city government into your home—all feel the power of the city.

For governmental service in the home you pay direct taxes on your real estate and other property. Does the money you spend for city service bring you adequate return?

You draw in the government with every breath. You cannot exist without city or town government any more than you can live without water.

True citizenship consist in not allowing the government to exist without you.

Many housekeepers like to renovate their pillows before the cloudy winter days set in.

To do this at home is a comparatively easy task, especially if one has a vacuum cleaner. Use the attachment specially made for pillows and the dust will be drawn from the feathers.

On a windy day put the pillows on the line and the feathers will fluff and freshen in the fresh air.

The ticking should be removed and washed.

The object of first aid is to give the right kind of assistance before the doctor's arrival, during which time bandaging must be controlled, pain relieved and broken bones and dislocated joints so fixed that they can cause no further injury. When a doctor is sent for, he should be informed of the nature of the accident or illness, in order that he may bring with him such medicine and instruments as may be required.
Persons giving first-aid treatment should not yield to the temptation to do too much. It is most important to know what NOT TO DO and when TO STOP.

tables and get everything ready so there wouldn't be any time lost after they all got there. There were to be games and races and prizes, and everything to make the day as happy as possible.
Nick climbed trees in a twinkling, with his magical Green Shoes, and got the baskets belonging to Mrs. Chick Chickaree, Mrs. Owl, Mrs. Squirrel, Mrs. Bill Blackbird (who hadn't packed to go south yet), Mrs. Thousand Leagues, and all the others. He was a wonder at it. He'd get a basket, slide down the tree, set it on tug's broad back, and go up after another. After he'd got all the baskets from Maple-Tree Flats, and

Such is Life

Editor's Note:—Mr. O. B. Joyful didn't show up in time to make note of what life happens to look like to him today, so by this merest accident it was given to the Girl Reporter to picture a phase of human existence, as follows:

BY THE GIRL REPORTER.

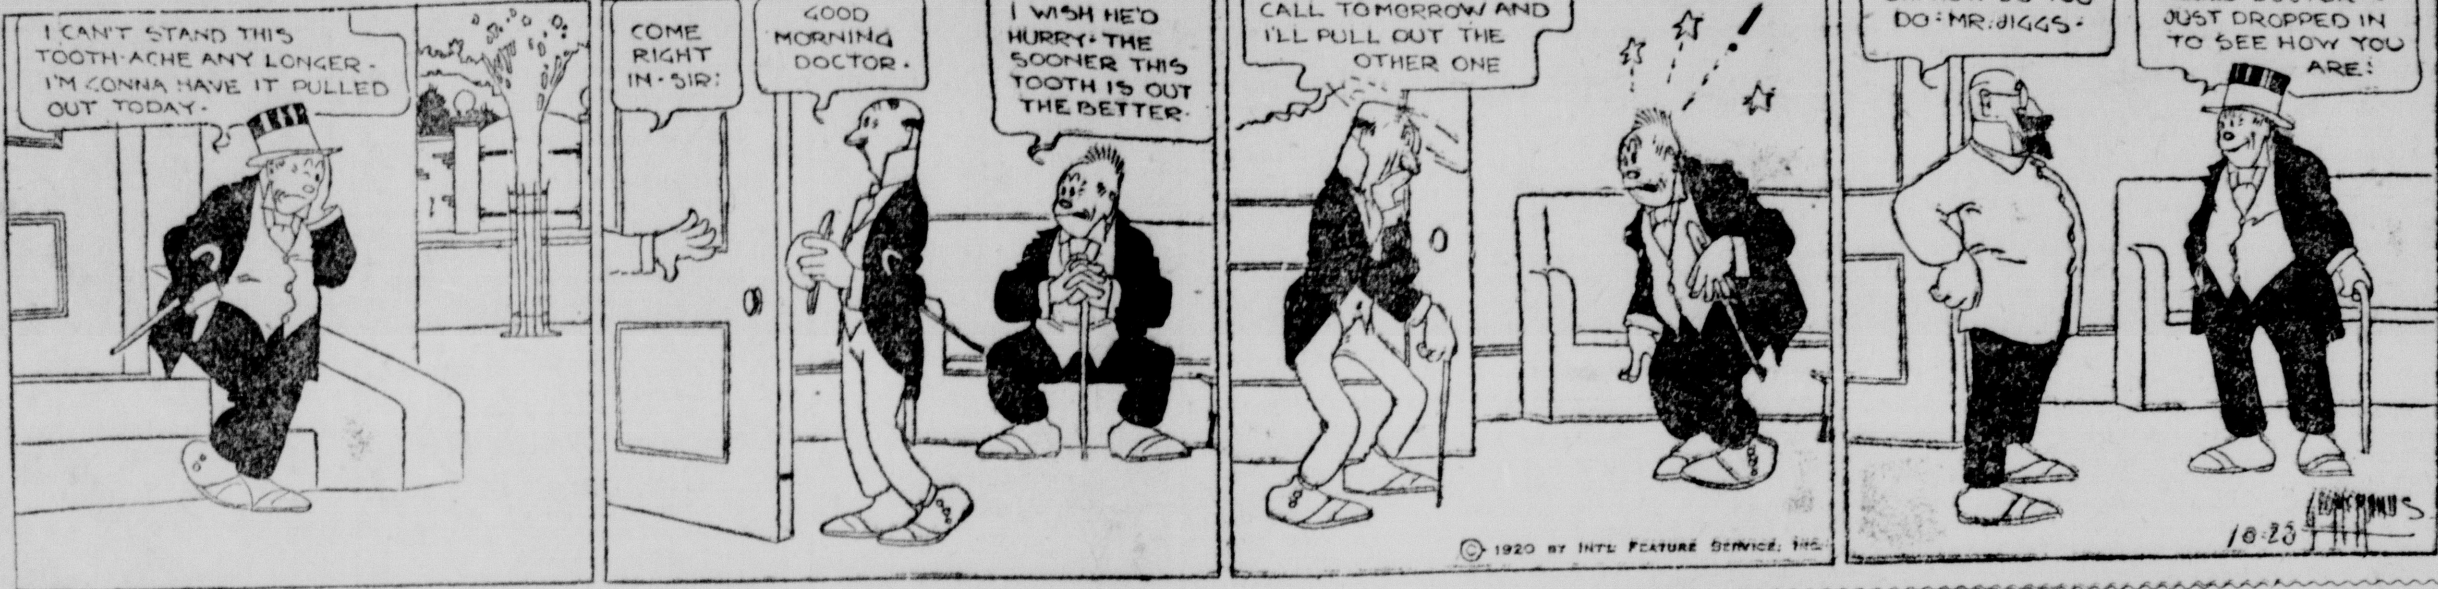

A woman took her life in her hands the other day—anyhow her peace and happiness.

She ventured a general criticism against a certain type of women. Her criticism was intended to be helpful. She wasn't trying to be mean and talk behind their backs. She hoped they would hear and take it in the way she meant it. But she was unfortunate. A man was the first to hear it.

This man was scandalized. At least this was the woman's impression after hearing him rave. Of course—she hedged a bit—some of what she said might be true in SOME cases. But heavens, couldn't she find a way to slide around the subject so that it wouldn't sound so "hard"? No use going out with a club, hurting their feelings, and so on and so forth. They're such sensitive little things, don't you know?

What was the matter? Here was this unsuspecting woman who had evidently gone through life—as far as she had gone—with a totally wrong viewpoint. She had been guilty of the over it, or to prove that he really had not crossed it when he has. The effect of this on character is bad.

But a public-spirited man does not wish merely to avoid breaking laws, and in the moral field also it is often better to leave the question of laws or rules in the background and judge one's conduct more freely for what it is in itself and its natural effects—to speak less of right and wrong, and more of better and worse—to ask if one's act is the best, the kindest, the most or most honorable, that one could have carried out under all the circumstances? That makes it no longer a question of being on one side or the other of some absolute line, but of approaching as near as possible to the perfection that some master in the art of living might attain.

Such an attitude encourages one to learn by experience, and it discourages ennobling self-righteousness, and the harsh condemnation of others, who may be weaker, less intelligent or less experienced than oneself.

WHITE HORSES

Where are the white horses of yesterday? Yes, where are even the piebald steeds? The best of them generally drifted into the fire department or to the show ring when the present generation of grownups were boys and girls. Now horses have largely been replaced by motors in the fire divisions and a lot of other places, too. So, with the natural decrease in the ordinary use of the equine, the percentage of white animals has almost petered out.

One of the pleasures in the old days of seeing a white horse was to make a careful survey to spot a red-headed girl. And vice versa. Even that entertainment seems to have been taken away.

There's always been a lot of josh and superstition carried on in connection with white horses, too. In England it has always been figured as bad luck if one met a white horse in the road and failed to spit at it. And in Wexford sufferers from whooping cough had a queer method of cure. They trod the highway until they met a piebald horse. "What's good for the whooping cough?" the patient would cry out to the rider, and no matter how silly the remedy the rider suggested, it was adhered to and counted a sure cure.

But those days are passing, for several reasons, one being the scarcity of horses, perhaps!

PERFECT WOMAN

Woman has been woman ever since Eve's days. So what an old Spanish writer said about her centuries ago must apply to her now. Apparently he knew a good looking woman when he saw one. At least he had the courage to put on paper what he thought one looked like.

This is what he said: "A woman is quite perfect and absolute in beauty if she has thirty good points." Here are the thirty good points, that, possessed by woman, spell both perfection and beauty:

- Three things white—skin, teeth, hands.
- Three things black—eyes, brows, lashes.
- Three things red—lips, cheeks, nails.
- Three things long—body, hair, hands.
- Three things short—teeth, ears, feet.
- Three things broad—chest, brow, space between eyebrows.
- Three things narrow—mouth, waist, instep.
- Three things large—arm, loin, limb.
- Three things fine—fingers, hair, lips.
- Three things small—bust, nose, head.

But behold! There are millions of men in this country who will pick that formula to pieces in about a minute.

Are there not as beautiful women in the world with blue eyes, for instance, as those with black? Are brunettes more beautiful than blondes?

TEN BILLION

Will it be good business for Uncle Sam to cancel the ten billion dollar war debt Europe owes him?

Festus J. Wade, prominent St. Louis banker, answers in the affirmative. He has many who agree with him that that it would pay the people of the United States to charge off that ten billion to profit and loss, wiping the debt slate clean as far as the government is concerned.

"For 15 years," Wade points out, "we have sold and exported 54 billion dollars to foreign countries—we have imported 32 billions. There was a difference in our favor of 22 billions. The products sold to foreign customers helped to keep our mines, farms, factories at work."

After the war Europe found herself so deeply in debt to the United States "reflected in foreign exchange, that she could not renew the old habit of buying American goods. Europe now must do without American goods so she can pay American debts. Europe cannot do both at the same time, Wade insists.

Between America and these European customers stands the huge rock of debt. The question is: How shall it be removed? Europe may pinch and save for years, thus wiping it out. But in the meantime, Wade asserts, American farms, mines and factories will be losing all that trade. He believes that by cancelling the debt normal trade will be resumed. He points out that the average yearly balance in America's favor during the past 16 years was a billion and a half. In less than seven years, at this rate, the debt would be equalled. On the other hand, if it is not thus cancelled probably but the interest will be paid for the first dozen years.

Wade advises cancellation.

He does not go to the extreme of advising cancellation by American private holders of foreign bonds. And there are many financial experts who do not believe normal trade can result even though the government cancels its debt as long as private Americans continue holding so many billions of European bonds.

International experts are not agreed that Europe will accept cancellation. They believe there is too much of the bankruptcy stigma in cancellation. They argue that Europe will insist upon pinching and saving until she has paid her debts.

The fact remains, however, that while the matter is debated pro and con that enormous debt stands as barrier against American exports, and is so far as it blocks the path, it enforces idleness upon American industries and curtails demand.

RIGHT

"Crime" means something forbidden by the law of the land; "sin" is often defined as something forbidden by the law of God, and "wrong" may be taken to mean something forbidden by what Locke calls the law of opinion.

What acts are to be classed as crimes depends upon the meaning of the law, exactly where the line is drawn, and on which side of it the act in question falls. Hence the long-drawn-out arguments of lawyers and the close decisions of courts. And when one thinks of right and wrong in this same legalistic way there is room for all sorts of casuistry and moral hair-splitting. One may try to come near the line without crossing

EASTERN GAMES ASSUME MORE MOMENT TODAY

Bigger Teams Meet Harder Competition in Day's Contests.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, Oct. 23.—Football took on more serious aspect today at many of the bigger eastern colleges, where the prominent teams were pitted against rivals of considerable importance compared with the trial horses of early October.

Unbeaten Harvard, thrice victorious over eastern rivals and once over a western rival met the Centre college team from Kentucky, which flashed to the zenith of the football sky last year. Georgia Tech., faced Pittsburgh and West Virginia was at New Haven for a clash with Yale. Pennsylvania brought to Philadelphia the Virginia military institute team. Important sectional contests were headed by the Princeton-Navy game at Princeton, the initial encounter between two of the bigger institutions this season. Other prominent games today included Cornell against Colgate, Tufts against the Army, Syracuse against Dartmouth, Springfield against Brown, Wesleyan against Columbia, Union against Amherst and Penn State against Lebanon.

GREAT GAME AT HARVARD
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 23. — The football teams of Centre college and Harvard University, their goal lines uncrossed this season, entered their contest at the Stadium today determined to keep a clean slate. The collegians from Danville, Ky., were outwitted about 10 pounds to the man, but in Captain McMillin, quarterback, and Weaver, center, were possessed of two members of Walter Camp's 1919 all American team. Centre's unbroken string of victories extends back more than two years and in three games this season the "praying colonels" have scored 24 points while whitewashing their opponents. The Crimson has scored 103 points to their opponents' none in four games this year.

The state needs military protection today just as much as when the former National Guard units left her borders for the late war, so let us get together and do our share in Dixon.

Many subjects are expected to come in for discussion, the four deliverances fitting together in such a way as to attract public attention to all the high spots of his platform.

The first of the speeches is to be delivered in Cleveland Wednesday night, and on the remaining nights of the week he will speak successively in Akron, Cincinnati, and Columbus. ## COX ON SECOND INVASION OF NEW YORK CITY TODAY

Candidate Made Entry to Metropolis in Big Night Parade.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, Oct. 23.—For the second time since his nomination as head of the Democratic ticket, Governor Cox of Ohio is in New York today filling a score of campaign engagements. The Governor's arrival here, long after midnight, was picturesquely calculated to arouse passerby in the streets to a more than ordinary interest in the event.

Following the closed car in which Governor Cox was driven from the Jersey City school house where he made his last speech, were more than a hundred touring cars from which blared red fire and other brilliant pyrotechnics.

At advantageous points along his route in New York elaborate displays of fireworks were set off to provide color while the procession of flag draped machines filed past flanked by a motorcycle police escort.

Arriving at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, the candidate met Mrs. Cox, who had come from her Dayton home during the day to be with the Governor here and accompany him on the last week of the campaign tour.

Mr. Heydler stated that he was acting in his capacity of "chairman of a meeting which was called to be held jointly between the National and American leagues, in Chicago, Oct. 18." The names will be voted upon at a meeting in Chicago Nov. 8, he wrote.

Mr. Heydler also asked the co-operation of the minor leagues in their meeting at Kansas City "toward bringing about that permanent understanding between the majors and minors, which will work to the benefit of every one."

Mr. Heydler made public a letter from Ames Wadsworth, Sr., chairman of the New York State Racing Commission, offering to act without recompense on a base ball commission.

ABOUT STOVE PRICES

In view of the downward trend of prices of some commodities a statement about Stove prices will be of interest. First, as regards our own costs would say that practically all our Stoves were contracted for at least a year ago at prices 15% to 20% below the present market and that our selling prices are based accordingly, as many of our customers have found by comparing our prices with others. Therefore, the market would have to drop at least 15% before our present selling prices would be out of line.

Now as regards the makers' costs: the demand for Stoves has been good and scarcity of pig iron and steel so great and manufacturing difficulties so many that many Stove makers will be unable to fill their orders this season. Hence there is no oversupply. Pig iron, steel or wages have not receded in price as yet. There is no evidence that stove prices can recede this season. There may be end-of-the-season clearing sales of odds and ends at reduced prices same as every year but anyone needing a stove this Winter need have no fear of purchasing at our present prices. We will be glad to have our stoves and prices compared with any others.

Whether you want a heater or cooking Stove for coal, wood, gas or oil we can please you.

THREE BIG GAMES ON WESTERN GRIDIRONS CENTERS OF INTEREST

Conference Title Contend- ers Meet in Three Cities.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 23.—Football play, developing into mid-season form, exhibited by practically evenly matched western conference eleven today presented three Big Ten games, the results of which were awaited tensely all over the middle-west as of great importance in determining the ultimate conference champion.

Five undefeated teams were contestants, Illinois, 1919 title holder, Ohio State, last year's runner-up, Wisconsin, Chicago and Michigan, Iowa, beaten by Illinois last week 20 to 3, was the one eleven with a previous setback to its early season record at the time of the playing off of today's conference schedule which was as follows:

Illinois and Michigan at Ann Arbor. Ohio State and Wisconsin at Columbus. Chicago and Iowa at Chicago.

Illinois Strong Team.
Illinois, made confident by the display of ground ability in its decisive defeat of Iowa last Saturday today "kicked off" with a field of players trained in open and close attack. Coach Zuppke was well fortified in the field goal kicking department, especially, with Ralph Fletcher. His brother Bob, who won the championship for his team last year by defeating Ohio State by the field goal route, also was ready to be pressed into service. On the defense Illinois was just as strong.

Spectators looked for both teams to employ a smashing offense varied by occasional forward passes.

At Columbus, Ohio State offered its first strong lineup of the season. In Bliss and Stinchcomb, the Buckeyes boasted two fast backs while Williamson was credited impartially as a terrific line plunger. Workman, newly discovered quarterback, has been considered one of the most accurate forward passers in the conference.

On the other hand the Wisconsin team which showed extraordinary strength against Northwestern last week entered a well balanced outfit on the Columbus gridiron.

Chicago Real Test.
At Stagg field the real strength of Chicago and its chance of being a championship contender was the subject of much discussion before today's battle with Iowa. In Captain Jackson, McGuire, Crisler, and Cole, Coach Stagg had a quartet of dependable football men. The Maroons' defense against Purdue was not particularly strong, while Wabash did not furnish the necessary opposition.

While the Maroons have not a real test so far, the Hawkeyes had a better team than the 20-3 defeat of last week would indicate, it was commented. Coach Jones shook up his team somewhat before the game today and up to the last moment it was thought very likely Captain Kelly would grace the sidelines. In Aubrey Devine, the Hawkeyes have one of the greatest players in the west on the field and he was expected to be the chief reliance of the Iowa defense.

All the other conference teams had an off day today and continued practice for next week's contests.

Notre Dame, which meets the army at West Point next Saturday was scheduled with Valparaiso, at Notre Dame. The other games on the schedule were:

Missouri and Drake at Des Moines. Kansas and Ames at Lawrence. Washington (St. Louis) and Oklahoma at St. Louis.

The Ames-Kansas game was watched as an index of Missouri valley conference strength, as Missouri defeated the Cyclones last week, 14 to 2.

Remaining games in the west were arranged for today as follows:

Case and Akron at Akron; Butler and Earlham at Indianapolis; De Pauw and Franklin at Green Castle; Knox and Beloit at Galesburg and Wabash and Rose Poly at Terre Haute; St. Louis and Missouri Mines at St. Louis; Wheaton and St. Viator at Wheaton; Wooster and Oberlin at Wooster and Wittenburg and Miami at Springfield, Ohio.

Extra Seats in Chicago.

Extra seating facilities were completed on Stagg field today to handle the crowd for the meeting between the University of Iowa and Coach Stagg's University of Chicago eleven. The Hawkeye team arrived yesterday and after light practice on the field announced themselves in good shape for the skirmish.

Following is the probable lineup:

Crisler R. E. Belding
McGuire R. T. Slater

GERMAN CANOEISTS GO MOTORING

A freakish feature of the recent canoe regatta at Grunau, Germany, the first to be held in the new republic since the beginning of the war, was this canoe-shaped automobile. One of the competing clubs brought it out and drew considerable attention with it.

WOMAN BUYS, HUBBY PAYS!

That's How Most Couples Purchase Auto

Cleveland, O., Oct. 23.—Ten years' experience as automobile salesman has brought Edward S. Jordan, president of the Jordan Motor Car Company, to conclude that "every normal man is ruled by a woman," and that, therefore, "woman is the vital point of attack for salesmen."

That is what members of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce heard when he talked to them on the automobile industry at the present time. He diverted from his optimistic summary of the industry's future long enough to explain to his audience how a woman reacts in buying an automobile.

"First," says Jordan, "as she enters a salesman's office, she is unconsciously influenced by the color and lines of the car. Then, consciously or unconsciously, she runs her hand over the leather of the upholstery.

"Satisfied with the feel of it she instinctively puts her foot on the running board, enters the car and sinks into the seat. Then, she is comfortable, she promptly asks the name of the car."

Jordan made a survey of the average number of persons riding in a car.

"On week days," he said, "I found the number averaged less than two to a car. On Sunday afternoons it was less than four. The greatest seven-passenger car in the world is the Ford, and the greatest two-passenger is the Pierce-Arrow."

Jordan attributes Henry Ford's success to the fact that "he built a car for the other fellow, while most manufacturers built one for themselves."

KEEP FAN BELT TIGHT.
If you find it necessary to give your motor a drink too often, try the fan to see if the belt is loose. A loose belt allows the fan to slip, thus preventing the water from being properly cooled. If the fan can be moved easily the belt should be tightened.

OLD ROMAN ROADS SHOW BEST WEAR

Some of the roads built by the Romans 2000 years ago are still in active use. These roads have lasted through the centuries simply because of their massive construction.

An earth subgrade, carefully prepared and drained, was the foundation for four layers of material, each so carefully laid that it contributed greatly to the long life of the road.

First came the statumen, on foundation, then the rudus, next the nucleus, and finally the pavement or wearing surface. The statumen and rudus consisted of large flat stones, while the two intervening courses were built of smaller stones laid in lime mortar.

For the chariot and pack-horse traffic of Roman times, such roads seem ridiculously heavy, but the wisdom of the builders was amply demonstrated by the 800 years during which the Roman road system formed the backbone of the transportation system of the ancient empire.

HERE WAS A WAR FOR PUBLIC GOOD

Recently when two gasoline dealers declared a competitive war in Charleston, W. Va., the street in the vicinity of the two places became so clogged with automobiles and people that a riot call was sent in to police headquarters. The price had gone down to 15 cents a gallon and one dealer was preparing a sign which read: "Three gallons for 10 cents. One quart of oil with every purchase," when the police effected a truce.

POWER LOST BY FRICTION.

One-fourth of the power of a motor vehicle is lost by friction. That is, excepting the power that is lost from improper lubrication. To make the most possible from the engine's power, therefore, grease cups should be kept thoroughly clean and constantly filled with grease. All bearings and working surfaces should be inspected often and cleaned and lubricated.

Built Solidly to "Stand Up"

As you know the Dort has won a national name for its "stay put" qualities.

Observe especially the stalwart frame, the massive side members, the solid construction.

This over-size frame is particularly valuable in a light car such as the Dort because it keeps the car rigid under continuous road pounding.

Everywhere throughout the Dort structure where there is a working strain you find this over-size and over-strength.

Now you know why the Dort goes to the repair shop with such extraordinary infrequency.

It's built to "stay put" as veterans of the road phrase it.

And, observe please, how accessible it is.

Accessibility has always been a pronounced characteristic of the Dort.

Whenever your Dort does need a little "tuning up" or an adjustment here or there you don't have to disassemble the car.

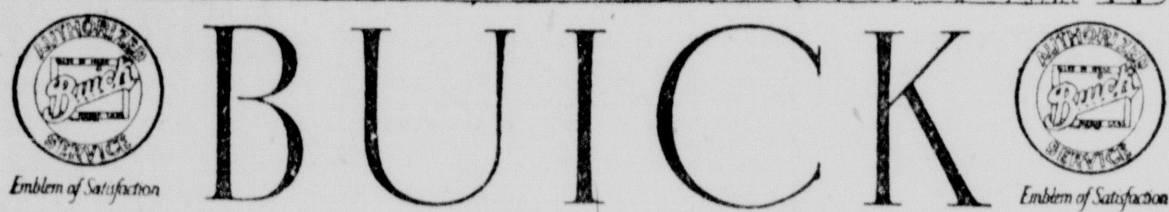

One of the foremost thoughts of Dort engineers was to build the car so its owners could give it the ordinary service attention easily and inexpensively.

We are receiving requests daily for demonstration drives and we would like very much to arrange one for you.
